

Compass Real Estate 2.0 is in the house!

Recently revamped to include a host of new features, our mobile app is better than ever. Want to leave comments for me, your agent, on the go? You got it. Looking to search by multiple criteria? Done.

We've made improvements to a number of features you already know and love as well as introduced brand new functionality. Starting today, you can:

- Filter listings based on proximity or status change
- Zoom-in on properties in map view
- Easily access your saved homes at any time
- Create, add to, and share in Collections, our visual workspace
- Fully customize your search experience
- Access school district and transit information

Your questions, answered:

How can I communicate with you, my agent, on the app?

Collections, your one-stop personal search hub, has been incorporated into the new mobile experience—we can each add properties and leave comments from our phones, and you'll even receive push notifications immediately alerting you to any changes.

Am I going to be constantly bombarded by emails and notifications?

Absolutely not! The latest version of our mobile app allows you more freedom to personalize your search settings. Work with me to adjust the notification frequency to meet your specific preferences.

What type of information can I access on the app?

We've integrated school information, transit details, and neighborhood data—plus, you can now set up your search to filter by multiple criteria. In addition, the latest update empowers us both with enhanced map views and more visible time-on-market status.
